01 SMART goals

MONTH 1 BUYS THE BASELINE

Cheapest clicks of the five and the youngest audience — and the strictest negative list in the account.

DAYS 0–30 · LEARNING

Keep the dating and pickup vocabulary out of the campaign entirely.

Measure: Zero spend on flirt, pickup, rizz or dating-app terms, checked weekly.

Why: That traffic churns, and this site is linked from the app App Review reads.

By: day 30 from launch.

DAYS 31–90 · PERFORMANCE

Find whether cheap clicks convert or just look cheap.

Measure: Cost per testflight_click within 1.5× the Speaking up campaign by day 90.

Why: A low CPC with no installs is buying the wrong intent.

By: day 90 from launch.

02 Keywords

PHRASE FIRST, EXACT ONCE PROVEN

PHRASE MATCH — START HERE

"how to start a conversation with a stranger"
"how to break the ice"
"what to say to someone you just met"
"how to talk to new people"
"conversation starters with strangers"

EXACT MATCH — ADD LATER

[how to start a conversation with a stranger]
[how to break the ice with someone]

03 Negatives

CAMPAIGN LEVEL

ADD BEFORE LAUNCH

flirt, flirting, pickup, pick up line, pickup lines, rizz, game, dating, tinder, hinge, bumble, date, girlfriend, boyfriend, attract, seduce, texting, dm, opener for girls

Two reasons pointing the same way: the partner declines coercion so this traffic converts badly, and ad copy promising seduction contradicts the product App Review is looking at.
